WILLIAM BALL NERO ON CHESTNUT

THE BRIEF & PROCESS:

I was approached by William Ball to design a showroom for a new client based in Spain. The client had an entire upper floor to fit out with a mixture of kitchens, bedrooms and bathrooms.

The initial consultation was to find out how many of each room type they required, which then followed on to basic spatial layouts of each area.

Once the general layout of the floor-space was agreed, I began designing each display to the clients requirements, and presenting each display to the client for feedback.

They were also supplied with detailed dimensional diagrams to enable them to check each display.

The design work was spread over a number of weeks, after which the furniture was shipped to Spain.
